Albums is an easy to use site that lets you create a music playlist with any audio files on your hard drive or online. Simply drag and drop your favorite songs into the window, and Top Albums automatically creates a song-by-song track list. The tracks can be arranged in the order you want, with each track being named and you can then create an MP3 or AAC file from your playlist. When you're ready to share your creation with others you can save the list or email it to friends and family. The Ultimate Playlist is a browser-based music player where you can add a wide range of different music that will be mixed automatically according to several parameters that you configure. Although similar to services like Songza and Shazam, the focus is on simplicity and ease of use. For example, you can add music to a playlist by simply uploading MP3s from your hard drive or cloud storage. Publisher: StreamGuru Last updated: January 25, 2018 Platform: iOS Guides Once you've got your YouTube videos organized and the best on your most frequented list, you're ready to go. YouTube lets you store videos on your phone or in the cloud, or play them anywhere on a range of devices. Many people do the whole uploading thing from their phone or tablet, either when they're away from their computer or want to show a video to a friend. For the latter, Google has a separate app to watch them from wherever you happen to be. For videos you've already downloaded to your phone or tablet, there's the YouTube app, which makes it easy to watch all of your favourite videos on the go. However, there are many YouTube videos that are blocked in the UK or the US. Fortunately, there are many different YouTube apps to watch those. When you're on the go, you should always download them all, since they can be so convenient. However, you don't have to download them all on your phone. You can download videos on your computer and then sync them to your phone or tablet for a smoother viewing experience
