I have installed it on my Mac for the Designer option. If I test the home page in Dreamweaver, I do not have the chart. I tried opening the site in SharePoint and it works. Do you have an idea as to what I need to do to use the chart? Re: Re: Re: Re: Testing in Dreamweaver 11.5.2 Date Submitted: 8/17/2016 Post Author: Michael A Post: Are you using the latest release? There was a problem with the site designer. It would not display the chart for some reason. Re: Re: Re: Re: Testing in Dreamweaver 11.5.2 Date Submitted: 8/11/2016 Post Author 1d6a3396d6

Organizational Chart Web Part allows users to generate and view organizational charts of any size and generate alerts on changes of the same. It lets you view organizations as large as those displayed in the Person Finder or the People Search. This component is extremely easy to use, requiring only a few clicks to begin your organizational charts. This component is extremely easy to use, requiring only a few clicks to begin your organizational charts. The Organizational Chart Viewer Web Part (OCVP) retrieves data from the Sites_ListDataSource control on a current page. You can limit the data retrieval by changing the webpart from the default of "All Sites" to "Only Sites I Want" or "Only Sites of a Specific User" (i.e. user "username"). You can also limit the site collection for which data is retrieved using the "SiteCollections" webpart property. One of the benefits of using a web part is that the data is retrieved when a page is viewed, rather than at the time the page is initially rendered. It is important to note that a page can contain more than one instance of the "OCVP". OCVP is a simple but powerful webpart.
