This allows users to create their own applications in AutoCAD Activation Code LT. AutoCAD 2010 is based on AutoCAD LT 2.6. A major difference is the installation of a separate development environment, called the AutoLISP interpreter, which allows user-defined programs to be created and programmed. AutoLISP is installed by default as part of the AutoCAD 2010 installation. The term "AutoLISP" may be used to refer to AutoCAD LT and AutoCAD 2010. You can also group objects, paths, and drawings into symbols, making it easier to reuse symbols in many different drawings. (video: 2:39 min.) Other New Features: Introducing Pre-Assignable Objects

1. Assign a name and an icon to a group, allowing you to easily identify each group in your project.
2. Pre-assign objects for easy reassignment later.
3. With the Pre-Assignable Objects feature, you can also assign colors to a group and reuse the colors in the future.
4. When you're ready to reassign objects to a group, the Pre-Assignable Objects feature gives you the ability to easily recall the old group names and colors.
