C5212i Flasher Pnx6508 Pnx4852 Fizzve V0 6 LiterarFor the first time in years the Ottawa Senators were able to snap their two game losing skid. Thanks to a goal scored at 18:27 of the 3rd period during a 2-1 victory over the Buffalo Sabres today, Ottawa now sits atop the East and is now 5-0-0 since March 11th, which is the same day that they dropped their last two. (Tracey McBride) With 45 seconds of the 3rd period still remaining, the Senators had one last chance to tie the game. On a face-off, Ottawa Generals forward and former Senator Kyle Turriss won the puck and was already in the offensive zone before the puck even touched the ice. Turriss advanced and handed the puck off to fellow Sens RFA forward Mark Stone who quickly found Ryan Dzingel on the other side of the neutral zone and put the puck in the back of the net to send the fans into a frenzy. Ovechkin's goal to end the 1st was one of two power play goals for the Capitals in the period. In between those two goals, Sens defenceman Thomas Chabot left the game in the opening minute of the first period with a lower body injury. However with Ottawa's win today, there is no longer a silver lining in their weekend. The Sens are in the middle of a four game road trip and they have won just four of their last 12 games, dating back to Jan. 11th. They ended up losing to the Philadelphia Flyers, New York Rangers, Pittsburgh Penguins and Washington Capitals.

Fraudulent or illegal use of user information, such as name, gender, age, address, social security number, etc. is becoming a growing problem. More and more companies that collect personal information and details of users want to protect these details from being misused or by whom such details may be useful for social engineering or perhaps other malicious actions. The information of an individual can be protected by storing the information in public and private servers using secret keys that are associated with the individual. An example of this is the Google Wallet system. In this system, user information is stored in a server called Wallet Server; the information of users is stored in
