Ad 1. Use your skills to increase your salary potential Professional designers who use AutoCAD often change jobs frequently, as AutoCAD affords a higher salary than the more general-purpose CAD applications like Microsoft® Visio or CorelDraw®, although many seasoned drafters continue to use Visio or CorelDraw because they prefer its ease of use. The higher cost of AutoCAD compared to the free versions of these CAD programs, such as Microsoft® PowerPoint® and CorelDraw Office®, also contributes to the higher salary for AutoCAD drafters. Ad 2. Use AutoCAD to draft accurate floor plans When building a house or other large structure, you will need to draw accurate floor plans of each room. Although you can do this manually using the lines, arcs, circles, and rectangles in Visio or CorelDraw, using a CAD program will give you more options and the ability to create any plan you need more efficiently. If you use AutoCAD, you can easily draw floor plans by dragging a series of linked lines or arcs to form a room or a floor of a building. Using the camera tool, you can then photograph a plan and print it out. 3. Download it as an iPhone app In addition to being able to download AutoCAD to your iPad®, iPhone®, or iPod Touch® from the App Store, you can also download AutoCAD to your smartphone for viewing from afar. AutoCAD's smartphone app has many of the same functions as the desktop version of the program. You can place points on an AutoCAD drawing, view a drawing from the accompanying ARCHAN (a) plane, and rotate and move the drawing. You can share your drawing with friends on the Web using the app. 4. Use AutoCAD to create 3-D models Creating a 3-D model for a statue or a building in AutoCAD will give you more options to create that model than using the standard 2-D drafting tools. You can insert solids and extrude and revolve 2-D sections to form a 3-D model. 5. Use AutoCAD to create interactive floor plans Instead of just viewing a floor plan of your home or office, you can use AutoCAD to create a view or floor plan that changes dynamically, depending on your selection. For example, you can create a view of a house that dynamically changes as you
