Photoshop Elements lacks the powerful features of Adobe Photoshop and Photoshop CS but has a user-friendly interface and is easier to use. While Photoshop is used by millions of people and professionals, Photoshop Elements is ideal for enthusiasts, advanced enthusiasts and amateurs who want a program that is just as powerful but with a simpler interface. Photoshop Elements can be used to edit all types of images. It can make and edit photos, edit videos, create work documents and design elements for the web. Image Editor: Elements includes two powerful retouching tools that work together, one for correcting and one for enhancing, or “fixing”, your images. These tools are called the Optimize Selection and Enhance Images. The Optimize Selection tool corrects flaws in your photo. It can straighten and crop, correct perspective, remove focus points and resize images. However, the tool does not operate on all aspects of your image such as color, brightness, contrast, and exposure. The Enhance Images tool is a better tool for fixing and improving the look of your image. It has more advanced features and can correct color, exposure, focus, and much more. In addition to these two tools, Photoshop Elements lets you rotate, flip, fill, crop, correct perspective, create effects and text, recolor your photos, apply artistic filters, and manipulate RAW images. When you are done editing, you can export the image to the Web with any supported internet site. You can save your image or send it as a file, so you can upload it to a website or email it to a friend. The Print and Web Layout features let you create a layout of your images, give it a title, add keywords to the image and view the file as an online gallery. Another thing that you can do with Photoshop Elements is to create high-quality works of art. You can create web graphics, logos, buttons, photo borders, chapter headings, stickers, infographics and web banners. You can also Clinical characteristics and genetic analysis of dengue fever in an epidemic in Singapore. To examine the clinical characteristics and genetic analysis of dengue in a Singaporean epidemic in the 1980's. Medical records of patients who attended the polyclinic of a hospital in a dengue fever epidemic in Singapore between 1980 and 1984 were retrospectively reviewed. Dengue virus isolates from patients who received a diagnosis of acute dengue fever were also obtained from the National Institute of Health and Medical Research (Singapore) Public-Private Virus Reference Laboratory. A polymerase chain reaction (PCR) assay was developed for detection of a 529 base pair fragment of the dengue E gene. PCR was used for confirmation of all serologically positive samples and for epidemiological investigation of cases. Clinical and laboratory investigations in 162 patients were reviewed. Sequential serological evidence confirmed dengue serotypes I, II and III infections in 66 (41.3%), 85 (52.5%) and seven (4.3%) patients, respectively. Of the 162 patients, 149 were infected with a single serotype. Of the 56 patients who were infected with DEN-2, 31 (55.4%) developed severe disease. There were two genetically distinct DEN-3 strains and one strain with a unique genotype for the third serotype.

San Antonio Spurs head coach Gregg Popovich has been named the NBA's coach of the year, according to Chris Vernon of the San Francisco Chronicle. Popovich was chosen over Dallas Mavericks coach Rick Carlisle, and the Rockets' Kevin McHale and Gregg Popovich. This is his second award of the year. Popovich, 50, guided the Spurs to a 57-25 record and the franchise's first 50-win season since 1999. San Antonio is the team with the most wins since the 1979-80 season, a record that matched the 50 victories Popovich did last year. "We just have a lot of fun out there on the floor," Popovich said after a Game 7 win over the Oklahoma City Thunder. "That's the most important part of it. We like to compete, like to play hard. I hope that people will notice that. "I think when people see us, they'll think how fun our team is and how much fun we have and enjoy watching us play." The Spurs' success is largely credited to their defense, the same defensive philosophy Popovich has employed for much of his coaching career. San Antonio allows a league-low 96.0 points per game and has become the NBA's best team at fouling, with 19.5 free throw attempts per game. The Spurs are one of only two remaining teams to get to the NBA Finals in the last six years, earning the right to begin their next six-game series with the Lakers as the No. 1 seed in the Western Conference. Comments The old Graham Smith Garage in town goes to proves that no matter how much planners, politicians, the media and an indifferent public want to stop the construction of apartment buildings they will still succeed if people don't speak up. I completely understand the other side of the coin. Residents living in more crowded conditions do have concerns about their property value, mainly in the older housing stock that has been around for a very long time. Rent control would not help, so I am not sure how it could be accomplished in this province. New developments in managed care and dental practice.
