I'm trying to consume an endpoint written in C# with JWT and Oauth. My code works and I have verified I'm able to reproduce the same response as the API with various requests and Postman. Now, I want to take it a step further and use the Postman integration with my API. The documentation and tutorials provide code examples using the json web-token type. The closest example I've found to what I'm trying to do is this: var client = new RestClient(""); var request = new RestRequest(Method.GET); request.AddHeader("Content-Type", "x-jwt-signature"); request.AddHeader("x-access-token", accessToken); request.AddHeader("TokenType", "Bearer"); The issue with this is that I don't want to add headers like the "TokenType" and "x-access-token" header. Instead, I want to recreate the same request as I do with Postman and I want to remove the x-access-token header. The documentation here:
